

Where to look for an Erasmus+ placement - some websites likely to advertise suitable opportunities:

- AIIESEC (provides internship placements for higher education students internationally) <https://www.aiesec.org/>
- The Going Placement database has information for various countries including many in Europe. It offers job search sites, career fairs and an overview of how to look for work. <http://globalplacement.com/>
- The BBC website provides searchable country profiles giving background information including historical, political and economic information, as well as links to major newspaper sites. http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/country_profiles/default.stm
- Graduate Jobs in Europe gives an economic outlook for many countries across Europe, providing league tables of companies which are most popular with graduate job-seekers and listing them by country and by sector. <http://graduatejobsineurope.com/>
- EURES (European Employment Services) provide information, advice and job-matching services to facilitate the free movement of workers within the European Economic Area; Switzerland is also involved. <http://ec.europa.eu/eures/>
- <http://erasmusintern.org/> “Professional” internship opportunities, of varying lengths – some as short as 3 months.
- <https://ec.europa.eu/eures/public/en/homepage> General EU-wide job site. Not aimed specifically at students.
- <https://eurasmus.com/en/> Wide range of sectors, countries, duration and starting dates. Some unpaid opportunities but mostly paid.
- <https://www.ies-consulting.eu/> Charges a fee when you accept an offer. France, Germany, Italy, Spain.
- <https://www.studentlanguagebureau.com/index.php> Aimed at students, no fees, but requires you to register to see detail of vacancies
- http://www.overseasjobcentre.co.uk/country_index.shtml All countries. Summer work eg ski resorts, summer camps, au pairing. Links to other specialist sites.
- <https://www.britishcouncil.org/iaeste/uni> - students for students of science, technology, business, and applied arts. Closing date for registration is usually in November.
- <https://www.iagora.com/work/en/internships-and-jobs-abroad> Again, “professional” vacancies of varying lengths/start dates. Employer not named in the ads.
- <https://targetjobs.co.uk/careers-advice/working-abroad> country profiles covering many European countries; links to job sites and advice on how to make an application in that country.
